ABOUT ZAYED HOUSE FOR ISLAMIC CULTURE

Zayed House for Islamic Culture (ZHIC) is a specialized independent institution, affiliated with the Court of the Crown Prince. It was founded on the vision of the late UAE Ruler, Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan al-Nahyan, and was officially inaugurated in 2005 by the present Ruler, HH Sheikh Khalifa bin Zayed Al Nahyan, President of the UAE and Ruler of Abu Dhabi.

ZHIC focuses on promoting Islamic culture, and building bridges between diverse ethnicities. The institution welcomes new Muslims and individuals interested in learning about Islam and Islamic culture. ZHIC has developed specialized educational programs to educate new Muslims in several languages, providing them the vision and direction they need to integrate into society. Additionally, it offers special programs in Qur'ānic memorization and Arabic language, Ḥajj services, a public library, and other social activities such as cultural and theme-based trips and sports.

ABOUT SHEIKH ZAYED

Sheikh Zayed was born in 1918 in the city of Al-Ain and spent most of his childhood there. In 1971, after a number of successful years as Ruler of Abu Dhabi, he assumed the leadership of the newly founded United Arab Emirates, a federation of seven emirates, including the capital, Abu Dhabi. Sheikh Zayed guided the UAE through profoundly changing times, bringing wealth, education, and opportunity to a region that had seen hardship for a number of decades. He was beloved by his people and nation and was influential in promoting a culture of co-existence, tolerance, and mutual respect in the UAE. Sheikh Zayed passed away in 2004 and is buried next to the Grand Mosque of Abu Dhabi, named after him. He was succeeded by his eldest son, HH Sheikh Khalifa bin Zayed Al Nahyan.

A MESSAGE FROM ZAYED HOUSE FOR ISLAMIC CULTURE

By the grace of Allah ﷻ, the number of new Muslim converts in the United Arab Emirates has been steadily increasing. Since its establishment, Zayed House for Islamic Culture has been an institute that acquaints new Muslims with Islam, and provides them with the assistance and support they need to integrate into society. As such, it has become necessary to develop a comprehensive and holistic system for educating new Muslims about their faith.

Zayed House for Islamic Culture is pleased to introduce The Revealed Path: a comprehensive curriculum which sets a fresh standard for new Muslim education in the twenty-first century. In producing this curriculum ZHIC has kept in mind the unique challenges of our age and has endeavored to make it both relevant and contextual. This system incorporates modern educational theories and formulas of adult education and takes into account the cultural sensitivities and backgrounds of new Muslims.

The advent of the information age means that new Muslims can access materials on Islam from various sources and in no particular structure, easily causing confusion and uncertainty. To counter this phenomenon, this curriculum aims to provide a base from where anyone can begin his or her search for authentic Islamic knowledge.

The Revealed Path: A Guide Book for New Muslims is the cornerstone of this curriculum, followed by its companion: First Instructions on Worship. These are the primary texts of ZHIC's curriculum for new Muslims and will be indispensable resources for all those entering the doors of our institution seeking guidance.

Zayed House would also like to take this opportunity to thank Tabah Foundation (UAE) and Razi Group (Canada) for their tireless efforts in making this unique and innovative project an unqualified success. It is our hope that this work can be the beginning of a concerted effort to produce quality Islamic educational materials.

PREFACE

“Make things easy and do not make things difficult.”¹ In this ḥadīth of the Prophet ﷺ lies the great educational foundation that this manual follows.

In his commentary on the above mentioned ḥadīth, Ibn Ḥajar al-‘Asqalānī, one of the most authoritative Islamic scholars, noted that: “The content [here] is suitable for new Muslims.” Since the readership of this manual is precisely the new Muslim, we made sure to take this Prophetic guidance to heart. Ibn Ḥajar continued: “Thus, learning knowledge ought to be gradual. If a subject matter is easy from the outset, it becomes appealing to the one going into it and it also causes him to receive it with delight.”²

The goal of this small manual, The Revealed Path: First Instructions on Worship, is to present to the new Muslim and the newly practicing Muslim enough instruction to correctly implement the five daily prayers and the fast of Ramaḍān according to the example of the Prophet ﷺ and in the least amount of time.

In order to fulfill this objective, the following pedagogical measures were taken:

- a. prerequisite knowledge and technical Arabic terminology were kept to a minimum
- b. obligatory and recommended elements were presented together without distinction
- c. answers to rare or exceptional circumstances were excluded
- d. proofs, reasoning, benefits, and wisdoms related to acts of worship were excluded
- e. counsels and relevant facts were included throughout the text and kept concise

One of the challenges many new Muslims face is learning the wuḍūʿ and Ṣalāh correctly along with their supplications and Qurʾānic recitations. To facilitate this, we included an audio and visual aid. Other daily supplications have also been carefully transliterated and gathered in the appendix.

Although it is encouraged to study this material with a qualified teacher, the simplified content and carefully designed layout make it accessible for independent learners. It is hoped that this book will facilitate learning the correct practice of the prayer and the fast. Other essential introductory teachings on Islam can be found in a companion volume to this manual titled The Revealed Path: A Guide Book for New Muslims.

INTRODUCTION

Islam is a complete religion. Its teachings do not focus solely on the spirit, nor is it a series of intellectual statements; in Islam, mind, body, and soul unite to glorify our Creator.

We are in a unique position among other faiths, for we are able to know exactly what was taught by our Prophet ﷺ, and thus, with precision and confidence we are able to emulate him in the way he worshipped. Learning how to worship God in the way of the Prophet ﷺ is like receiving a key to attain spiritual fulfillment in this world and eternal salvation in the next. That key has been preserved and handed down to us through a chain of scholars.

Through this chain God has protected the Qur'an and Prophetic way (Sunna) from corruption, both in text and interpretation. For this reason it is important to seek knowledge from those who are qualified to give the right answers and from books that follow the teachings of an intellectual and spiritual heritage connected to the Prophet ﷺ and his Companions رضي الله عنهم. God the Exalted says: ﴿Ask those who know if you know not﴾ (QUR'AN 16:43).

From the time of the Prophet ﷺ until now, there has always been a tradition of scholarship that has preserved and conveyed the sound practice of Islamic worship. Scholars and their students have carefully documented and conveyed the rulings of the Revealed Law that the legal experts derived from the two primary sources of our religion: the Qur'an and Sunna. The body of law and the method for deriving rulings from these two sources are preserved in a madhhab or a "way" (a legal school).

There are four main schools in Islamic practice that are still followed today: the school of Imam Abū Ḥanīfa, Imam Mālik, Imam al-Shāfi'ī, and Imām Aḥmad b. Ḥanbal. The contents presented before you are according to the school of the great scholar of Iraq, Abū Ḥanīfa al-Nu'mān رضي الله عنه (699–767 AD / 80–148 AH).

“The first things that must be taught to someone who has just entered Islam are those which are indispensable and without which Islam does not exist...”

– SHAYKH ḤABĪB AḤMAD MASHHŪR

In general, the basic rulings of the Revealed Law classify human action according to the following five categories:

RULING	ARABIC	DESCRIPTION
Obligatory	Farḍ/Wājib	Required actions that are rewarded; one is held accountable for not performing them.
Recommended	Sunna/Mandūb	Recommended actions that are rewarded, although there is no accountability for not performing them.
Permissible	Mubāḥ	Neutral actions that have neither reward nor liability, although one can be rewarded for them if performed with good intentions.
Disliked	Makrūh	Discouraged actions that do not hold one liable for performing them, although one is rewarded for avoiding them.
Forbidden	Ḥarām	Forbidden actions that hold one liable for performing them; one is rewarded for avoiding them.

The goal of this small book is to give the new Muslim and the newly practicing Muslim enough instruction to correctly implement the five daily prayers and the fast of Ramaḍān according to the example of the Prophet ﷺ.

The Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever travels a path in pursuit of knowledge, God puts him on a path to Paradise.”³ Through your pursuit of this knowledge, you will be taking the first steps on a path that leads to Paradise. Remember that this book is not like other books that can simply be read and put away; use it as often as possible until you feel confident in your worship.

If you have questions or particular circumstances that come up which are not addressed in this book, your teacher will give you suggestions on where to seek answers.

The authors and editors of this book sincerely pray that you benefit from it and that you find its contents easy to understand and follow. Any good that comes from this is from God, and any mistakes are our own.

May God grant us all success in attaining His pleasure.

PREPARING FOR THE PRAYER

«O you who believe! When you rise up for prayer, wash your faces, and your hands up to the elbows, and wipe your heads and (wash) your feet up to the ankles»

—QUR'AN 5:6

1 PURITY AND FAITH

“Purification is half of faith.”⁴

By saying these words, the Prophet Muḥammad ﷺ made clear to his followers the significance of being inwardly and outwardly pure. As a practicing Muslim, you will soon become very familiar with the details of how to purify your body and surroundings for worship. There are two aspects to purity in Islam: physical purity and ritual purity, and both are attained through purifying water.

WATER FOR PURIFICATION

﴿And He sent down upon you from the sky, rain by which to purify you﴾

(QUR'ĀN 8:11)

Only plain water can be used for physical and ritual purification. Whether that water comes from rain, the sea, a river, a well, melted snow, or from your faucet, as long as the water is free of impurities (najāsa) and the taste, color, or odor of the water has not changed, it can be used for purification. Water that naturally contains algae, mud, or salt is also permitted for purification.

ADVICE If you have no reason to believe that the water you're using is impure, then consider it pure. The only reason you should question the purity of water is when you have sensed a change in its color, taste, or odor.

ATTAINING PHYSICAL PURITY

﴿And purify your garments﴾ (QUR'ĀN 74:4)

Before performing a prayer you must be physically pure. This means that your body, clothing, and place of prayer are free from impurities (najāsa) such as blood, urine, and excrement. These substances are considered impure by the Revealed Law and must be removed when preparing for worship. Physical purification involves washing away these substances with plain water.

ADVICE Unwarranted doubts about the purity of things may start coming to your mind causing you anxieties. Whenever this happens, put an end to them by recognizing that the default position in our religion is that things are pure unless proven otherwise.

PURIFICATION OF THE PRIVATE PARTS

﴿And God loves those who purify themselves﴾ (QUR'ĀN 9:108)

It is obligatory to clean the private parts whenever any solids or liquids leave the front or rear passages. Be sure that this is accomplished before the prayer.

The best way to clean is to first use paper and then water. If the impurity (najāsa) has spread beyond its usual passage then wiping alone is not enough and washing it away with water becomes obligatory.

Before cleaning make sure that you have finished relieving yourself. See to it that “Since the seventh century, Islamic teachings on personal hygiene have been exceptional. Only recently has it become common to find medical sources advising ‘that the private parts should be washed with water often.’” the impurities (najāsa) have left the passages. This can be done by waiting a few moments, then clenching the muscles in your abdomen or inhaling. Then gently tap or squeeze out any final drops from the front passage. This is called istibrāʾ and it is obligatory.

Here are some things you should observe when going to the toilet:

1 Enter the restroom with the left foot and say: Bismillāh Allāhumma innī ʿaūdhu bika minal khubthi wal-khabāʾith (In the name of God. O God, I seek refuge with You from male and female devils).

- 2 Relieve yourself in a way that is hygienic.
- 3 Perform istibrāʾ.
- 4 Pour water onto the privates with the right hand and wash the privates using the left hand.
- 5 Always wash your hands well.
- 6 Leave the restroom with your right foot and say: Ghufrānak (O God, I seek your forgiveness).

ATTAINING RITUAL PURITY

Once you have made sure you are physically pure, you can focus on becoming ritually pure for the prayer. Since prayer is direct communication with your Creator, being ritually pure is obligatory and it will help you to prepare for the greatness of the moment.

The Prophet ﷺ said: “God does not accept the prayer without purification.”⁵

Ritual purification means removing ritual impurity (ḥadath) from yourself. Ḥadath is a legal condition caused by certain actions. This condition of ḥadath prohibits you from the prayer and other acts of worship, and it can be either minor or major.

Major ḥadath is removed by performing a full body wash called ghusl (ritual body wash). It will be discussed later. As for minor ḥadath, which is caused by certain actions such as breaking wind or urination, it is removed by performing a lesser wash called wuḍūʾ (ablution).

FACT When plain water is unavailable or when one is incapable of using it, there is another means of ritual purification without the use of water. It's a dry ablution called tayammum.

WUḌŪʾ (ABLUTION) AND HOW TO DO IT

The wuḍūʾ (ablution) must be made with plain water. If there is anything on your body that would block the water from reaching the skin underneath such as paint, nail polish, or makeup, you must remove it before you begin. The following steps are done in order without interruption:

“Whoever performs wuḍū’ (ablution) and does so well, his sins will leave his body, even from under the nails.”

—THE PROPHET MUḤAMMAD ﷺ

1 Make the intention. This is done by intending to make an obligatory wuḍū’ (ablution).

FACT The intention is what makes our works become acts of worship. Anyone can wash his or her limbs, but only someone who intends it as worship can be rewarded for it. The Prophet ﷺ said: “Actions are according to their intentions.”⁶

2 Say Bismillāh (In the name of God).

بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ

3 Wash your hands three times just past the wrists. Be sure to begin with the right hand and wash between the fingers.

4 Rinse the mouth three times. With your right hand take a handful of water into the mouth, shift it around, and then expel it.

5 Wash your nostrils three times. With your right hand take some water up to the nose and slightly sniff some of it into the nostrils. Then expel it by blowing out while pinching the nose with your left hand.

“O you who believe! When you rise up for prayer, wash your faces, and wash your hands up to the elbows, and wipe your heads and (wash) your feet up to the ankles.”

—QUR'ĀN 5:6

6 Wash your face three times. Be sure to wash the skin under any hair on your face. If the beard hair is so thick that the skin underneath does not show, then simply wash the outside of the beard. The face includes the entire area between the point where the hairline usually begins to the chin in height, and from ear to ear in width.

7 Wash your hands and arms just past the elbows three times. Begin with the right arm and then the left.

8 Wipe the entire head once. Wet your hands and begin from the forehead back to the neck.

9 Wipe the ears once. Insert the forefingers into the holes of both your ears and place the thumbs on the outer parts of the earlobes and wipe the back of the ears once.

10 Wipe the back of your neck. Using the back of your hand, bring them forward toward your shoulders.

“Performing wuḍū’ in a public bathroom can be difficult if there is no facility for it; particularly washing your feet. It is important that you make sure to keep the area clean and dry so as not to leave a negative impression of practicing your religion.”

11 Wash each foot three times. Begin with the right foot and then the left. Your washing must include the entire foot including the heel and ankle bone, and water must even reach between the toes.

ADVICE The wuḍū’ description does not differ for women. However if circumstances do not allow for wiping the entirety of the head then she may wipe part of her head under the scarf.

After completing wuḍū’ (ablution), it is recommended to say the following supplication:

Ash-hadu allā ilāha illā Allāh waḥdahu lā sharīka lah
Wa ash-hadu anna Muḥammadan ‘ab-
duhu was rasūluh
Allāhummaj‘alnī minat-tawābīn waj‘alnī
minal-mutaṭahhirīn

I bear witness that there is no god but God, Alone without partner.
 And I bear witness that Muḥammad is His servant and Messenger.
 O God, make me of those who constantly repent and of those who are pure.

“It is permitted to recite the Qurʾān from memory without wuḍūʾ just as it is permitted to supplicate whenever you want, asking God for whatever you please.”

WHAT NULLIFIES WUḌŪʾ

The following things nullify the wuḍūʾ (ablution):

- 1 Anything exiting the private parts (including passing wind)
- 2 Deep sleep, unconsciousness, or intoxication
- 3 Impurities, like blood or pus, flowing out from anywhere in the body
- 4 Vomiting more than a mouthful
- 5 Direct rubbing of the penis against the vagina (without penetration)

FACT Islam does not necessarily consider these actions shameful or dirty, but out of divine wisdom, the Legislator has decreed that wuḍūʾ is required after them in order to be ready for prayer.

WHEN WUḌŪʾ IS NECESSARY

You will need to make sure that you have wuḍūʾ (ablution) in the following instances:

- 1 Prayer
- 2 Touching the Qurʾān
- 3 Ṭawāf (making seven rounds around the Holy Kaʿba in Mecca)

“One of the first things that the new Muslim must do after declaring his or her faith is perform the ghusl.”

GHUSL (RITUAL BODY WASH)

«And if you are ritually impure, then purify yourselves» (QUR'ĀN 5:6)

Just as minor ḥadath is removed by making wuḍū' (ablution), major ḥadath is removed by performing a ghusl (ritual body wash).

The ghusl (ritual body wash) is a full body wash that you can do in the shower. Like wuḍū' (ablution), it must be made with plain water and if there is anything on your body that would block the water from reaching the skin underneath, you must remove it before you begin. To perform the ghusl:

- 1 Make the intention for an obligatory ghusl (ritual body wash).
- 2 Begin by saying: Bismillāh (In the name of God).
- 3 Wash your hands three times.
- 4 Wash the private areas.
- 5 Make wuḍū' (ablution).
- 6 Pour water over your head three times. Standing under the shower is fine, but make sure that the water reaches the roots of your hair and that you are massaging your hair and scalp with your hands.

- 7 Pour water over the rest of your body and wash it. Do this three times. Make sure that water reaches every crevice and that you are rubbing every part of your body with your hand or another object such as a scrub brush or wash cloth. When washing, it is good to start with the right side and finish with the left.

ADVICE Women and men do not have to undo their braids if they are doing a ghusl unless the braids are so tight that they prevent water from reaching the scalp or inside the braids.

CAUSES OF MAJOR ḤADATH

One of the first things that the new Muslim must do after declaring his or her faith

“The purifying ghusl is valid providing an intention is present and the entire body is washed with plain water.”

is perform the ritual body wash (ghusl).

It must also be made after the following:

- 1 Sexual orgasm
- 2 Waking up and finding any fluid—other than urine or sweat—near the penis
- 3 Intercourse
- 4 Menstruation
- 5 Postnatal bleeding

FACT There may be times when a ghusl is made after intercourse and then sexual fluids exit without any renewed gratification. In this case, only the wuḍūʿ would be needed.

WHAT MAJOR ḤADATH PROHIBITS

Whenever you are in a state of major ḥadath it is not permitted to do any of the following:

- 1 Pray
- 2 Enter a mosque
- 3 Recite the Qurʾān
- 4 Touch the Qurʾān with your skin
- 5 Perform ṭawāf (making seven rounds around the Holy Kaʿba in Mecca)
- 6 Perform the prostration associated with certain verses in the Qurʾān

MENSTRUATION

One of the causes of major hadath is menstruation. You've learned how to ritually purify yourself after it's over, but it's also very important to learn some of the specific rulings related to the menstruation period itself.

Menstruation is cyclical vaginal bleeding that occurs on a regular basis between the ages of nine and fifty-five years.

WHEN IT STARTS AND WHAT IS PROHIBITED

A menstrual cycle begins when there is an emission of blood, even if it is very faint and minimal.

Whenever its signs appear you must refrain from:

- 1 Intercourse
- 2 Prayer
- 3 Fasting
- 4 Tawaf (making seven rounds around the Holy Ka'ba in Mecca)
- 5 Touching the Qur'an
- 6 Entering a mosque

WHEN IT ENDS AND WHAT TO DO

If a piece of fabric is inserted and it does not change color whatsoever, then the menstruation is considered over and it is obligatory to make a ghusl (ritual body wash) and pray. Alternately, if the maximum number of days (ten) has passed, the menstruation is technically finished and the same rule applies.

BLEEDING AFTER A CYCLE IS OVER

A new cycle of menstruation can only begin when you are free of menstruation for fifteen consecutive days—no less. When a sign of menstruation appears within these fifteen days, then it is counted as a menstruation day belonging to your previous cycle (only if one has not exceeded the maximum of ten days). In such a case you will add it to those days until you reach the maximum.

TIME LIMITS OF MENSTRUATION AND IRREGULAR BLEEDING

The maximum length of menstruation is ten days. Any bleeding beyond that is not considered menstruation. The minimum time limit is three days. If the bleeding lasts less than three days the blood is not considered menstruation and one has to make up all the prayers or fasting missed.

If a woman has vaginal bleeding that continues for ten days, then any bleeding beyond the tenth day is always considered irregular bleeding (istihāda). She must make ghusl and pray. If a woman has vaginal bleeding that goes beyond her regular cycle, then it is considered menstruation provided it is within the ten day maximum. If this blood continues past the ten day mark, then all the days of prayer between the normal end of her cycle and the ten days must be made up.

“How good were the women of the Anṣār that they did not shy away from learning and understanding religious matters.” — ‘Ā’ISHA B. ABĪ BAKR

ADVICE A woman experiencing chronic bleeding should do the following before every prayer:

- Wash the blood from her body and clothing
- Use some sort of a pad to absorb any bleeding
- Make wuḍū’ and pray the prayer immediately

PRAYER

(ṢALĀH)

﴿And they were not commanded except to worship God—[being] sincere to Him in religion, inclining to truth—and to establish prayer﴾

—QUR'ĀN 98:5

5 THE OBLIGATORY PRAYERS

Muslims are encouraged to remember their Creator at all times. To help them do this, five times a day, a special kind of remembrance is established: the daily obligatory (farḍ) prayers. These five obligatory prayers are your most important duty as a Muslim. On the Day of Judgment you will be asked about your prayers before anything else.

The Prophet Muḥammad ﷺ taught his followers to pray as they saw him pray. He himself prayed as he was taught by the Angel Gabriel ﷺ. Today, Muslims continue to pray in this manner, and it is this same prayer that you will learn about in Chapter 7.

FACT The Muslim male or female becomes legally responsible (mukallaf) upon reaching the age of puberty. At that point, the obligation of establishing the five daily prayers becomes applicable and the only time one is excused from this obligation is during menstruation and after childbirth until the bleeding stops.

PRAYER TIMES, NAMES AND CYCLES

«Indeed, the prayer has been prescribed at appointed times for the believers»
(QUR'ĀN 4:103)

Each obligatory prayer has a specific:

- a. name by which it is called
- b. time in which it is performed
- c. number of cycles

Also, depending on what prayer and cycle you're performing, the Qur'ān is recited audibly and sometimes inaudibly.

“The times of the five daily prayers change from day to day. Only start the prayer when you are certain its time is in. One of the easiest ways to find out when a prayer starts is by having a prayer time calendar specific to your locality.”

THE FIVE OBLIGATORY PRAYERS

“A man asked the Prophet ﷺ: ‘O Messenger of God! What action is dearest to God, the Exalted?’ The Prophet ﷺ replied: ‘Prayer at its proper time.’”

PRAYING ON TIME

A man asked the Prophet ﷺ: “O Messenger of God! What action is dearest to God, the Exalted?” The Prophet ﷺ replied: “Prayer at its proper time.”⁷

Every prayer must be performed within its prescribed time frame and it is generally recommended to pray as soon as the prayer time begins.

The first cycle of the prayer must be completed before the prayer time ends in order for it to be considered on time. It is prohibited to delay a prayer beyond its time without a valid excuse.

An exception to this is the Dawn Prayer

(Fajr). This entire prayer must be completed before the first part of the sun begins to rise.

MISSING THE PRAYER TIME

The Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever missed the prayer, then it is as if he has lost his family and his wealth.”⁸

In the event that you miss or forget an obligatory prayer during its time, you must make it up as soon as you remember.

There is no sin when the prayer is missed out of forgetfulness, but intentionally missing it is a major sin that requires repentance.

6 THE CALLS TO PRAYER

The call to prayer is a distinct symbol of Islam heard all over the Muslim world five times a day. Before the prayer, two calls are made: the adhān and iqāma.

The adhān is called when the prayer time starts. As for the iqāma, you should call it right before you start the obligatory prayer even if you are alone.

THE ADHĀN

The adhān lets people know that the prayer time has started

Allāhu akbar (four times)

Ash-hadu allā ilāha illā Allāh (twice)

Ash-hadu anna Muḥammadan rasūlullāh (twice)

Ḥayya ʿalaṣ-ṣalāh (twice)

Ḥayya ʿalal-falāḥ (twice)

[Aṣ-ṣalātu khayrun minan-nawm]
(twice in the Dawn Prayer)

Allāhu akbar (twice)

Lā ilāha illā Allāh (once)

God is the greatest

I bear witness that there is no god but God

I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of God

Come to the prayer

Come to true success

[Prayer is better than sleep]
(twice in the Dawn Prayer)

God is the greatest

There is no god but God

THE IQĀMA

The iqāma is called just before starting the prayer

Allāhu akbar (four times)

Ash-hadu allā ilāha illā Allāh (twice)

Ash-hadu anna Muḥammadan rasūlullāh (twice)

Ḥayya ʿalaṣ-ṣalāt (twice)

Ḥayya ʿalal-falāḥ (twice)

Allāhu akbar (twice)

Lā ilāha illā Allāh (once)

I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of God

Come to the prayer

Come to true success

The prayer is commencing

God is the greatest

There is no god but God

7 HOW TO PRAY

Before you begin the prayer check for the following conditions upon which the prayer's correctness depends:

- 1 Correct Time: that the time for the prayer has entered.
- 2 Physical Purity: that impurities (najāsa) are removed from your body, clothing, and place of prayer.
- 3 Ritual Purity: that you have removed minor ḥadath by performing wuḍū' (ablution) and major ḥadath, if necessary, by the ghuṣl (ritual body wash).

FACT The menstruating woman is exempted from the ritual prayer and fasting during her period. She is not required to make up the missed prayers but she is required to make up the missed fasts of Ramaḍān at a later time.

4 Proper Clothing: that certain body parts (ʿawra) are covered. Your clothing should cover those parts in a way that does not reveal the skin underneath. Females should cover the entire body except the hands, feet, and face. It is superior for males to do this as well; however, if the nature of your work or life does not allow for this, then remember that the bare minimum is to cover what is between the navel and knees. Most Muslims consider it impolite to pray without at least a shirt on.

5 Prayer Direction (qibla): that you are facing the direction of Mecca in the Arabian Peninsula. To determine which direction to face from your locality, find out from your local mosque or from a reliable online resource.

6 Intention: that intention is present, which is the heart's determination or will to perform the prayer. It is best to make the intention when you're about to start the prayer with the first Allāhu akbar, and it is invalid if made after it. If you are praying an obligatory prayer, then indicate it in your intention. For example, if you are praying ʿAṣr, the will to perform it must be present in your heart.

“The Muslim male or female becomes legally responsible (mukallaf) upon reaching the age of puberty. At that point the obligation of establishing the five daily prayers becomes applicable.”

PRAYING TWO CYCLES

The Prophet ﷺ said: “Pray as you see me pray.”

When saying any of the invocations or supplications, say it inaudibly while moving your mouth to it. As for the recitation of Qur’ān, it is either said audibly or inaudibly depending on the prayer and cycle you are performing.

1 Stand straight.

2 Make the intention. Intend to pray the specific prayer by name and number of cycles. If you are praying behind an imam, make the intention to link your prayer to his.

3 Say the opening takbīr: Allāhu akbar (God is the greatest). This is said upon raising both hands to the level of your ears (men) or shoulders (women). Then lower them gently, placing your right hand on your left under the navel (men) or on your chest (women).

“The opening chapter of the Holy Qur’ān, the Fātiḥa, is a very short chapter which is recited in Arabic every cycle of prayer. So try to memorize it as soon as you can. In the meantime you can read it from a large print in front of you during the prayer.”

4 Recite the opening supplication:

Subḥānak-allāhumma wa bī ḥamdika, wa tabāarakas-muka wa ta‘alā jadduka wa lā ilāha ghayruka

Glory be to You, O God, and all praises are due to You, and blessed is Your name and exalted is Your majesty and there is no god besides You.

5 Ask God’s protection from evil and begin in His name:

A‘ūdhu billāhi minash-shayṭānir-rajīm
I seek God’s protection from Satan, the accursed.

Bismillāhir-raḥmānir-raḥīm
In the name of God Most Merciful and Compassionate

6 Recite the Opening chapter from the Qur’ān (Fātiḥa):

Al-ḥamdu lillāhi rabbil-‘ālamīn
Ar-raḥmān nir-raḥīm
Māliki yawmid-dīn
Iyyāka na‘budu wa iyyāka nasta‘īn
Ihdināṣ-ṣirāṭal mustaqīm
Ṣirāṭal-ladhīna an‘amta ‘alayhim
Ghayril maghḍūbi ‘alayhim
Walāḍ-ḍālīn

“Once you say the opening Allāhu akbar the prayer has started and certain acts are prohibited during it. Things like talking, eating, and fidgeting too much nullify the prayer.”

«All praise is due to God, Lord of the Universe.
The Most Merciful and Compassionate.
Sovereign of the Day of Judgment.
You alone we worship, and You alone we ask for help.
Guide us to and keep us upon the straight path;
The path of those on whom You have bestowed Your grace, not of those who have earned Your anger, nor of those who have gone astray»

FACT If you are following the imam do not recite.

7 After the Fātiḥa, say āmīn:

This means that you are asking God to answer your prayers.

آمین

8 Recite some part of the Qur’ān, either an entire chapter or less. Here is one chapter:

Bismillāhir-rahmānir-rahīm
Qul huwal-llāhu aḥad
Allāhuṣ-ṣamad
Lam yalid wa lam yūlad
Wa lam yakul-lahu kufuwan aḥad

In the name of God Most Merciful and Compassionate

«Say: “He is God, the One.
God, the Eternally Self-Subsisting.
He does not beget nor is He begotten.
And there is none like unto Him.”»

“Out of all the ways through which My servant gets closer to Me, prayer is the dearest to Me.”

—ḤADĪTH QUDSĪ

9 Bow (rukūʿ). As you go down, say Allāhu akbar and bend forward at the waist and hold your knees. Your back and head should be level.

In each of the different prayer positions you must be still for at least a moment.

While bowing, say three times:
Subḥāna rabbiyal-ʿaẓīm
Glorified is my Lord, the Magnificent.

10 Rise from the bowing. As you rise say:
Samiʿa Allāhu liman ḥamidah
God listens to those who praise Him.

When you are standing straight say:
Rabbanā wa lakal-ḥamd
O Lord, to You belongs all praise.

FACT If you are following an imam's prayer you would only say, as you rise from bowing:
Rabbanā wa lakal-ḥamd.

11 Prostrate. As you go into the prostration (sajda) from the standing position, say Allāhu akbar and gently go down, placing your knees on the ground first, then your hands, and then your face. Make sure that your feet, knees, palms, forehead, and nose are firmly placed on the ground and that your toes are bent pointing toward the qibla (the direction of prayer).

“During the prayer, make sure that your chest never turns away from the direction of the qibla.”

For men, your arms should be away from your sides, your thighs separated from your stomach, and your knees apart. For women, it is better that you gather your body tightly with your stomach very near to your thighs.

While in sajda, say three times:

Subhāna rabbiyal-‘alā

Glorified is my Lord, the Most High.

12 Raise your head and hands from the prostration, saying:
Allāhu akbar (God is the greatest).

13 Sit and place your hands flat on your thighs and say:
Rabbighfirli Rabbighfirli
O My Lord forgive me. O My Lord forgive me.

14 Go down into sajda again, saying:
Allāhu akbar (God is the greatest).
Say three times:
Subhāna rabbiyal-‘alā
Glorified is my Lord, the Most High.

You have now finished ONE cycle of prayer.

“Indeed, God and His Angels send blessings on the Prophet. O you who believe! Send blessings and abundant salutations upon him.” —QUR’AN 33:56

15 After completing the first cycle stand up from the second prostration without sitting, saying:
Allāhu akbar (God is the greatest).

Perform the second cycle by doing steps 6–14 again.

16 Rise to a sitting position from the prostration of the second cycle.

17 Place your hands on your thighs. Recite the tashahhud:

At-taḥiyyātu lil-lāhi waṣ-ṣalawātu waṭ-ṭayyibāt
As-salāmu ‘alayka ayyuhan-nabiyy
wa raḥmatullāhi wa barakātuh
As-salāmu ‘alaynā wa ‘alā
‘ibādillāhiṣ-ṣāliḥīn
Ash-hadu allā ilāha illā Allāh
Wa ash-hadu anna Muḥammadan ‘ab-
duhu wa rasūluh

Greetings be to God. All prayers and goodly things be to God. Peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy of God and His blessings. Peace be upon us and upon all of God’s righteous servants. I bear witness that there is no god but

“The five prayers may be compared to a stream of fresh water, flowing in front of your house, into which you bathe five times each day...Indeed, the five prayers remove sin, just as water removes dirt. ”

—THE PROPHET MUḤAMMAD ﷺ

God. And I bear witness that MuḤammad is His servant and Messenger.

When you say “there is no god but God,” you should point upwards with your index finger, forming a circle with your thumb and remaining fingers while saying “no god,” and lower it when you say “but God.”

18 If it is the last cycle then after reciting the tashahhud recite the Abrahamic supplication and any supplication of your choice in Arabic.

Allāhumma ṣalli ʿalā MuḤammadin wa ʿalā āli MuḤammadin kamā ṣallayta ʿalā Ibrāhīm wa ʿalā āli Ibrāhīm wa bārik ʿalā MuḤammadin wa ʿalā āli MuḤammadin kamā bārakta ʿalā Ibrāhīm wa ʿalā āli Ibrāhīm fil-ʿālamīna innaka ḥamīdun majīd

O Allah, elevate the rank of MuḤammad and the family of MuḤammad as You elevated the rank of Abraham and the family of Abraham. And bless MuḤammad and the family of MuḤammad as You blessed Abraham and the family of Abraham in the worlds. Indeed, You are truly the Most Praiseworthy and Noble.

Example of a supplication:

Rabbanā ātina fid-dunyā ḥasana wa fil ākhirati ḥasana wa qinā ʿadhāban-nār

“The coolness of my eye has been placed in prayer.”

—THE PROPHET MUḤAMMAD ﷺ

Our Lord, give us good in this world, and good in the Hereafter, and protect us from the punishment of the Hellfire.

19 End the prayer with as-salāmu ‘alaykum wa raḥmatullāh. (Peace and God’s mercy be upon you). Turn your head to the right then to the left. With each turn say: as-salāmu ‘alaykum wa raḥmatullāh.

You have now completed a TWO cycle prayer.

PRAYING THREE CYCLES

In a three cycle prayer perform the two cycles as described above except rise after the tashahhud in the second cycle and perform one more cycle. In the third cycle, do not recite another chapter after the Fātiḥa. Recite the Fātiḥa inaudibly in this third cycle. Then proceed to complete the prayer.

PRAYING FOUR CYCLES

In a four cycle prayer perform the two cycles as described above except rise after the tashahhud in the second cycle and perform two more cycles but without reciting another chapter after the Fātiḥa—you only recite the Fātiḥa inaudibly in the third and fourth cycle. Then proceed to complete the prayer.

PRAYING IN A GROUP

The Prophet ﷺ said: “Prayer with the congregation is better than prayer alone by twenty-seven times.”¹⁰

It is highly recommended for men to pray the five obligatory prayers in a group. A group consists of at least two legally responsible Muslims (mukallaf): one male leader (imam) and one follower.

HOW TO PRAY IN A GROUP PRAYER

- 1 Stand to the imam’s right side if you are male and alone; otherwise, stand behind him with the other follower(s), shoulder-to-shoulder in a straight row. Women stand together behind the men.
- 2 Before starting the prayer, be sure to make the intention to follow your imam.
- 3 Say the opening takbīr (Allāhu akbar) only after the imam finishes his.
- 4 In the audible and inaudible prayer the follower does not need to recite the Fātiḥa or a chapter (sūra).
- 5 As a follower, you are prohibited from going ahead of the imam in any of his actions.

OTHER PRAYERS

RECOMMENDED PRAYERS
(SUNNA)

Besides the obligatory (farḍ) prayers there are other prayers that the Prophet Muḥammad ﷺ regularly prayed before or after the five obligatory prayers. These prayers are recommended, or sunna, and are sometimes called nawāfil. If you choose to perform them then they are extra acts of devotion that you are rewarded for doing.

The table below shows the minimum number of cycles for each of the sunna prayers and when to pray them.

FACT The sunna prayers before an obligatory prayer cannot be prayed until the time for that prayer has begun. It is generally recommended to do the sunna prayers at home.

WITR

The witr prayer is an obligatory (wājib) prayer that is only slightly less essential than the five daily prayers. You may pray it any time after the ‘Ishā’ prayer until the true dawn. It is a three cycle prayer and differs from the obligatory prayers in a few ways. For details, see the appendix.

FRIDAY PRAYER

﴿O you who believe, when the call is proclaimed for the prayer on Friday, hasten to the remembrance of God﴾ (QUR’ĀN 62:9)

The Friday Prayer (jumu‘a) is a group prayer where at least four men attend (and this includes the imam). If you pray the Friday Prayer, whether you are male or female, you do not need to pray Ṣuḥr that day.

The prayer begins with two sermons (khutba) delivered by the imam. It is followed by a two cycle prayer that is performed audibly by the same imam.

In general, the Friday group prayer is obligatory on every Muslim man who lives in a permanent settlement such as a city or town. Women are not required to attend; however, if they join it is valid.

SUNNA BEFORE	OBLIGATORY PRAYER	SUNNA AFTER
2 cycles	Fajr	none
4 cycles	Ṣuḥr	2 [4] cycles
4 cycles	‘Aṣr	none
none	Maghrib	2 [6] cycles
2 [4] cycles	‘Ishā’	2 [4] cycles

“The most appropriate person to lead the obligatory prayer is the one who is most knowledgeable in the rules of the prayer.”

EID PRAYER

The Eid prayer is prayed on two occasions: the end of Ramaḍān and the tenth of Dhū al-Ḥijja. The prayer has two cycles with extra takbīrāt (saying Allāhu akbar) and is followed by two sermons.

TARĀWĪḤ

Tarāwīḥ is usually a twenty cycle prayer performed in intervals of two during the nights of Ramaḍān. It is performed after the Nightfall Prayer (‘Ishā’) and before the witr prayer. In the evenings of Ramaḍān, mosques around the world are filled with worshippers performing tarāwīḥ together in a group. It is one of the traditions that make Ramaḍān special.

TRAVELER’S PRAYER

When traveling, you must shorten your four cycle obligatory prayers to two cycles. As long as your travel distance is more than 81 KM away, you can start shortening the prayers once you leave the buildings of your city.

During Ḥajj, there is one situation where you join Zuhr with ‘Aṣr and Maghrib with ‘Ishā’. Consult someone learned to understand the conditions for this.

FASTING IN RAMADĀN

«O you who believe, fasting is prescribed for you as it was prescribed for those before you so that may attain piety»

—QUR'ĀN 2:183

10

THE OBLIGATIONS AND CONDITIONS

Fasting the entire month of Ramaḍān is one of the pillars of Islam. Every day between dawn and dusk, Muslims do not eat, drink, or have sexual relations. Ramaḍān begins with the sighting of the new moon and can last either twenty-nine or thirty days. It is one of the most blessed months of the year and every good action you do during this month is given an even greater reward.

WHO MUST FAST

Every legally responsible Muslim (mukallaf) who is healthy enough to fast and does not have a valid excuse must fast the month of Ramaḍān.

WHO DOES NOT FAST

You are exempted from fasting Ramaḍān if you are:

- 1 Feeling sick and fearing you will be harmed by fasting or that it may delay your recovery
- 2 Finding it difficult to fast due to old age
- 3 Traveling on a permissible journey longer than 81 KM

4 Pregnant or breastfeeding and fearing for yourself or your baby

5 Menstruating

6 Experiencing postnatal bleeding

FACT If you are menstruating or bleeding after childbirth you are prohibited from fasting and the missed days are made up after Ramaḍān is over.

MAKING SURE THE FAST IS VALID

For your fast to be valid you must:

- 1 Be free from menstruation and postnatal bleeding
- 2 Make an intention before dawn to fast
- 3 Refrain from things that break the fast from dawn to dusk

11

MISSING THE FAST AND CONSEQUENCES

VIOLETING THE SANCTITY OF RAMAḌĀN AND THE KAFFĀRA (EXPIATION)

If fasting in Ramaḍān is obligatory for you then it is a major sin to deliberately break the fast without a valid excuse.

In general, if the fast is broken intentionally without a valid excuse, then you must continue to fast, make the day up, and perform the expiation (kaffāra) for each missed day. To perform the kaffāra one must:

① Fast everyday for two months continuously

OR

② Feed sixty poor people for each missed day

MAKING UP THE FAST WITHOUT THE KAFFĀRA (EXPIATION)

If you break the fast in Ramaḍān due to a valid excuse you must still make the day up at a later time when able, however, without the kaffāra. Here are some other instances that break the fast but do not entail the kaffāra:

① Eating or swallowing anything, like: raw rice, flour, a mouthful of salt, or paper

② Accidentally swallowing water during wuḍūʿ

③ Eating on purpose after you ate out of forgetfulness

④ Reaching an orgasm that results from rubbing, kissing, or touching

⑤ Breaking your fast because you mistakenly thought the sun had set

⑥ Smoking or inhaling smoke that you produced (such as incense-burning)

“All the deeds of the son of Adam are for him: the good deeds will be multiplied ten times to seven hundred times, except fasting, which is for Me and I will reward for it accordingly.”

—ḤADĪTH QUDSĪ

- 7 Eating a pea sized amount of food that was stuck in your teeth
- 8 Performing an enema
- 9 Pouring or dripping any liquid into the nose or ears
- 10 Inserting a wet finger into the anus or vagina
- 11 Fully inserting anything into the anus or vagina (this does not include intercourse which would break the fast and require kaffāra)
- 12 Applying medicine to the skin that seeps into the body cavity
- 13 Accidentally allowing rain or snow to go into the throat
- 14 Being forced to break your fast in any way

MAKING UP FASTS

If you missed a fast during Ramaḍān, it is best to immediately make up the same number of fasts. All fasts must be made up before the next Ramaḍān begins; otherwise, if you procrastinated without a valid reason you must pay the fidya.

You cannot start a voluntary fast until you have made up all missed fasts from Ramaḍān.

ADVICE If you have many days of fasting to make up, try to complete them as soon as you can. The winter months are ideal for making up fasts because the days are much shorter.

THE FIDYA (PAYMENT)

If you are physically unable to fast during Ramaḍān, then you are exempted from fasting and it is recommended to give the fidya payment, which means that you feed one poor person for each day of fasting that was missed.

12

HOW TO FAST A DAY IN RAMAḌĀN

The Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever fasts RamaḌān with belief and anticipation of a reward, his past sins are forgiven.”¹¹

- 1 Make your intention to fast the night before the fast.
- 2 Eat a meal just before dawn.
- 3 Avoid everything that breaks your fast from dawn until dusk.
- 4 Do many good deeds throughout the day.
- 5 Break your fast immediately once the sun has set.
- 6 Break the fast with moist dates, dry dates, or water.

While you break your fast, make this supplication:

*Allāhumma laka ṣumnā
wa ‘alā rizqika aftar-nā
fataqbal minnā
innaka anta as-Samī‘ul ‘Alīm*

O God, for Your sake we have fasted.
And with Your provisions we break our fast.
Accept it from us.
You are surely the All-Hearing, the
All-Knowing.

- 7 Perform the Maghrib prayer on time and then eat a meal.
- 8 Pray the tarāwīḥ prayer after the ‘Ishā’ prayer.

13

RECOMMENDED AND PROHIBITED FASTS

RECOMMENDED FASTS

It is recommended to fast:

- 1 The Day of Arafat for non-pilgrims (the ninth of Dhū al-Ḥijja)
- 2 The eight days of Dhū al-Ḥijja before the Day of Arafat
- 3 The tenth of Muḥarram
- 4 The ninth of Muḥarram
- 5 The eight days before the ninth of Muḥarram
- 6 The rest of Muḥarram
- 7 The month of Rajab

- 8 The month of Sha‘bān
- 9 The fifteenth of Sha‘bān
- 10 Mondays
- 11 Thursdays
- 12 Three days of every lunar month

PROHIBITED FASTS

Muslims are not allowed to fast on:

- 1 Eid al-Fitr
- 2 Eid al-Aḍḥā and the three days that follow

CONCLUSION

The Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever God wishes good for, He blesses him with knowledge of the religion.”¹²

You have been doubly blessed by God: first, with guidance to His religion, and yet again by learning the proper way to worship Him. This manual is an important first step in a journey that, God willing, will last your entire life.

The Revealed Path: First Instructions on Worship was intended as a brief but thorough introduction to the basics of Islamic worship. It also serves to open the doors of Islamic scholarship to you.

The material presented here is not only important in itself, but also maintains the tradition of a continuous chain of knowledge passed down from generation to generation. Every single guideline that you have read here has its roots in the practice of the Prophet Muḥammad ﷺ.

By learning the basics of one of the four classical schools of thought, you are now in a position to seek teachers who will further your understanding of Islamic knowledge.

There is a vast ocean of information that is available. Some of it will be genuine and beneficial, some not. The best way to determine that which is beneficial is to make sure that the source upholds the unbroken chain of scholarship of which you will, God willing, become a part. You should make it your principle to accept nothing less than this in matters of your religion.

Remember that with every bit of knowledge you learn, the best way to remember it and gain even more is through application: religious knowledge is knowledge you learn to use. Apply what you learn and you will find it becomes easier and easier to learn more.

It has been narrated: “Whoever acts upon what he has learned, God will grant him knowledge of that which he does not know.”¹³

It may sometimes feel like you are learning a lot all at once, but be patient, don't expect perfection from yourself right away, and be sincere. Every day you will feel more comfortable with the blessed choice you have made. Turn to God in both difficulty and ease and you will find a constant Companion who will make any burden feel light. ﴿Allah desires ease for you; He does not desire difficulty for you﴾ (QUR'ĀN 2:185)

This religion is not meant to be difficult. We have been promised great rewards by both the words of the Qur'ān and the ḥadīth of the Prophet ﷺ who stated beautifully:

“This religion is easy, and no one makes his religion excessively difficult except that it overwhelms him. So remain steadfast, do your best, and be of good cheer for the reward of right action. And seek help [in prayer] in the morning, evening, and some of the night.”¹⁴

We pray that this manual is just the first of many that you will read in your quest to perfect your religion.

May God accept your good deeds.

There is no god but God. He is alone and without associates. To him belongs the kingdom and to Him belongs all praise. He gives life and causes death and He is the Ever-Living who shall not die. In His Hand is all goodness and He has power over all things.

SUPPLICATION FOR DECISION MAKING (ISTIKHĀRA)

Jābir b. ‘Abdullāh ﷺ said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to teach us how to seek guidance in choosing the best option available in a particular matter, just as he would teach us a Chapter from the Qur’ān. He said: ‘If one of you is concerned about some particular undertaking, he should perform two cycles of prayer other than the obligatory [prayer] and then he should say:

Allāhumma innī astakhīruka bi ‘ilmika wa astaqrīruka bi qudrati-ka wa as’aluka min faḍlikal-aẓīm fa innaka taqdiru wa lā aqdir wa ta‘lamu wa lā ‘alam wa anta ‘allāmul-ghuyūb
Allāhumma in kunta ta‘lamu anna hādhal-amr [and mention here the undertaking] khayrun lī fī dīnī wa ma‘āshī wa ‘āqibati amrī [or: ‘ājilīhi wa ājilīhi]—faqdir-hu lī wa yass-sir-hu lī thumma bārik lī fīhi: wa in kunta ta‘lamu anna hādhal-amr shar-run lī fī dīnī wa ma‘āshī wa ‘āqibati amrī

[or: ‘ājilīhi wa ājilīhi] faṣ-rifhu ‘annī waṣ-rifnī ‘anhu waq-dir liyal-khayra ḥaythu mā kāna thummar-dīnī bih

O God, I ask You to show me what is best through Your knowledge, and I ask You to empower me through Your power, and I beg You to grant me Your magnificent favor, for You have power, while I am without power, and You have knowledge, while I am without knowledge, and You are the One who knows the unseen. O God, if You know that this undertaking is better for me in my religion, my life in this world, and my life in the Hereafter [or: “in the short term and long term”], then decree it for me and make it easy for me, and then bless me in it. O God, if You know that this undertaking is worse for me in my religion, my life in this world, and my life in the Hereafter [or: “in the short term and long term”], then turn it away from me and turn me away from it and decree good for me wherever it may be and then make me content with it.’”

Never shall one regret, so long as he or she seeks guidance from the Creator and consults with the creation and the believers and commits with a firm resolve in his or her decision, as God says: «And consult them in the matter, and when you have committed to a decision then place your trust in God» (QUR’ĀN 3:159).
